Victor Mora

On Peter's behalf . Here is his response on this.

TZM is what people personally make of it themselves and as a regional team and to blame Global, any other group or person is a cop out. Global has done so little to affect/interfere with any chapter and all this is just manifest, emotional frustration coming from an irrational, frankly presumptuousness place. Everyone loves to draw attention to themselves... blaze of glory ego stuff. Complaining about Forums not being open and "lack of access"... without any understanding of the process of development or common lapses due to time. (it isn't done) "Bullying"? They produced a scathing anti-TVP in the name of TZM which has now destroyed my personal relationship/ general ZM relational with TVP, along with my prior attempts to ease tension; They having been selling my films in violation of 3rd party copyright law contracts which have put me in a position of legal liability to my licensors. This is reality and not only are the films, which I extend for free, non exchange distribution, not to be produced/ sold in any form, mass or not by 3rd parties, I have also spent the past 2 years actively expressing the need dissociate my films from TZM in general, noting that they are not core resources and are distracting. I changed the name for ZIV for this very reason as well. So her claim "I was left feeling as though TZM is a fraud as, in addition to failing to walk our talk, we reject or ignore the very people and organizations who we say we're looking to collaborate with, as though talking and holding screenings of PJ's movies is all we're ever intended to do. " is just bizarre and convoluted on many levels. Once the new Guide/22 essay video educational series is done, we will have core, unconfused materials only for TZM. Many other accusations are also completely distorted, posturing in a manner of spin which only serves to elevate oneself due to some perceived hurt. Sorry for whatever she feels happened. I will continue to do what I have since 2009 - draw attention to the idea by whatever means necessary. Those who find fault in thin air like this are likely not doing this at all. They harp on power issues, structure and "direction"...as though direction ever really changed at all. Everyone makes mistakes for sure and we can either come to terms with those issues and realize everyone has the best intentions in this voluntary structure... or we can condemn and extend blame for our own personal lapses. In the end, it's always person deep down.

To engage TZM is to take the core tenets and create projects and expressions to make it what you can in your community. This is about an external perspective and the great TZM activists actually act, making use of the network - not sit around and talk about how maybe some coordinator is abusing his power or whatever. TZM's structure couldn't be anymore open, loose and transparent - why? because in effect it is virtually non-existent anyway. TZM is run by data and the general projects we have had overall since 2008. Real TZM activists learn to write, speak, learn and create. They do townhalls, zdays and media festivals and whatever they think of to draw attention to the idea for a new social system, keeping the global harmony in gesture as a movement. We could disband the entire global "structure" today and it wouldn't make a difference to those who really get it. And finally, I can't stand how people like this come down on others who have done much much more than they have, with no funds and limited spare time. Those volunteers in Global Administration/Site maintenance walk against a brick wall at all times and undergo too much stress as it is to keep things connected and working. This will never be pretty so I suggest everyone get used to that.

Monica Levantini Yo considero que no se debe exponer nuestra opinión usando el nombre del MZ o ningún otro, sólo nuestro propio nombre, sino seguimos las ideas del mismo; porque el MZ aboga por la unidad, el entendimiento y no se dedica a atacar o controlar lo que hace... See More

El Brujo Seguro, ahora PJ usa los bulldogs "de siempre" (más otros seguidores infaltables que solitos se suman, dicho sea de paso, dejo que los integrantes del LT -del PV- se tomen el trabajo de traducción de su carta), para enviar esta carta de 2da. o 3ra. man... See More

El Brujo Mónica: por favor guarda tu violín, que ya no es tiempo de retóricas ni música. Es tiempo de mostrar y decir las cosas como son y de ser objetivos.

Monica Levantini Brujo ni voy a leer tus siempre enormes y conflictivos puntos de vista, para mí es obvio que la personas que están siempre en conflicto (LTI, PJ, TVP) el conflicto son ellos mismos y no los demás, con relación al LTI te lo puedo decir de 1ª mano, eso ... See More

El Brujo Y donde vas a buscar las soluciones, Monica?...de quienes te mienten, o de los que son seguidores ciegos? Si el MZ significa ahora seguir un dogma, entonces quizás me había unido a un grupo equivocado. Y si estoy en el medio de los motores de los probl... See More

Monica Levantini El Brujo, Kari ha molestado a mucha gente, del TVP y TMZ y en la carta se presenta como víctima, yo pediría disculpas, pero como yo no soy Kari no puedo hacer mucho yo sólo puedo identificar mis inseguridades y mi propia estupidez y si no cambiarla por... See More
